I am generally in favor of requiring older high rises to be retrofitted with sprinklers. However, I have 2 concerns. First, the city should provide assistance in financing for lower income residents or provide other financing assistance. Second, any resolution should not require sprinklers in buildings where it is not possible to do so without damaging the structural integrity of the building.
My condo would have to install sprinklers outside of the units because all the walls are load-bearing and cannot be compromised. Of course, this would make the sprinkler system almost worthless.
